Greetings from the Communication & Advocacy Committee! Welcome to our current E-BITE. Please enjoy and continue to share your news with us at usa.communications@iddsi.net

The IDDSI USIRG wishes you and yours a healthy & happy holiday season and a bright start to 2023.

In this newsletter, we send you cheer from ASHA 2022 in New Orleans, LA...what a great way to close out a successful year of IDDSI education across the USA!

Thanks to ASHA for our IDDSI Booth.

IDDSI Education was front & center with ASHA Participants, gaining an audience in both Peds & Adults thanks to these presenters!

United States IDDSI Reference Group
Newsletter for Dec 2022—Jan 2023

The IDDSI USIRG is so proud to announce our Jell-O FAQ is posted on the website thanks to the US Best Practices Committee! More excellent learning with IDDSI is available through our published resources.

So.....what is Jell-O in the US considered? CLICK & READ to learn more here from the USIRG’s newest IDDSI.org publication: https://iddsi.org/IDDSI/media/images/Posters/GELATIN-JELLO-FAQ-USIRG-CHART-FINAL.pdf

In summary...Jell-O in the US is typically a Level 7! When in doubt, test it out.

Remember that the IDDSI Framework cannot change, but the diet order can be individualized. Person-centered diet orders specify an individual’s needs within and outside the IDDSI Framework. The medical team works in collaboration with the person’s wishes, preferences, goals of care, and individual abilities. Risks and benefits may be addressed in the informed consent process. Clear orders, communication, and documentation are key to person-centered care.
